NO FORGERY IN MR. HOAR'S BE ALF. THE RESULT NOT EFFECTED BY THE ALLEGED CHAPO DISPATCH

INY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.1 Boston, Jan. 19 .- The muddle into which Massachusetts politicians have been thrown this week is certainly remarkable. Mr. Craso has been supposed to be very friendly to Mr. Hoar, and has been known to say that he hoped that Mr. Hoar would succeed in the election. He knew as early as Tuesday what Mr. Hoar's strength was, and if he had no lingering hope of getting into the Senatorial chair as a sort "dark horse" he ought to have informed the leader of his faction in the Legislature that he did not countenance any opposition to Senator Hour If that had been done on Tuesday afternoon or Wedne-day forenoon Mr. Hoar would have been elected on Wednesday and Massachusetts would have been spared the painful scan-dal which is spread broadcast over the country. On the centrary, Mr. Crapo waited until he had been solicited urgently by Mr. Hoar's leaders to withdraw and then sent a telegram which was so ambiguous that its author now causes confusion by denying that he instructed his friends to vote for Mr. Hoar.

The real truth of the affair as near as can be ascertained is as follows: On Thursday forenoon a well-known and trustworthy gentleman of this city says that he was shown by Mr. Bates, the leader of the Hoar men, a telegram. The gentleman distinctly saw Mr. Crapo's signature, but did not have time to read the dispatch. He was informed by Mr. Bates, however, that it advised the support of Mr. Hoar. This was taken for granted to mean that Mr. Crapo had formally withdrawn from the race, and It was so announced by the evening papers. This morning's Journal, however, contained a dispatch from its Washington correspondent to this effect: "Mr, Ctapo says that the statement telegraphed from Boston to the effect that he had requested the members of the Massachusetts Legislature who had been voting for him to change their votes in favor of Mr. Hoar was a surprise to him. He said that he had made no contest for the Senatorial seat and had held no conference with any of the members of the Legislature in reference to the matter. The result, he said, was entirely satisfactory to him, He had always preferred that Senator Hoar should be reelected as against Governor Long, and had never made any secret of his choice in this respect." This, with a statement published in Thursday's Traveller, conveyed the impression that a forgery had been committed. To-day the State House has been in a ferment, and some members, overdesirous to promote peace, declared that no telegram had been received on Thursday as charged. They said this probably for the purpose of supporting and defending Mr. Crapo's position. THE CONFERENCE OF MR. CRAPO'S FRIENDS.

[GENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.] Boston, Jan. 19 .- The Journal will print an interview with H. J. Boardman, who presided at the conference of Mr. Crapo's friends. Mr. Boardman said in effect : "I called the conference for the purpose of ascertaining the purpose of the gentlemen who voted for Mr. Crapo. It baving been represented to me by leading friends Crapo in New-Bedford that they were confident that his friends in his own city, under the circumstances, preferred the election of Mr. Hoar, I remarked that it was scarcely worth while for his supporters else where to vote for him longer. The question of voting for him at another ballot was discussed and all except two or three voted that it was not acvisable. Another vote indicated that the larger wart of them. was discussed and all except two or three voted that it was not advisable. Another vote indicated that the larger part of them preferred Mr. Hoar. No telegram was read from Mr. Crapo, nor to my knowledge was any statement made to the effect that such a message had been received. I do not believe that any rumor of that character had any influence upon the result of the conference.

Governor Buther signed the ceruifeate of election of Mr. Hoar as Sonator this afternoon, and the document was forwarded to the President of the United States Senate by mail this evening.

Further investigation of the alleged forgery of a dispatch or letter from W. W. Crapo, announcing his withdrawal from the Senatorial contest in this State, shows that no actual letter or telegram from Mr. Crapo was shown; hence there was no forgery, as was stated in last night's dispatches. There is no question, however, of the fact that a sintement was circulated at the State House that such a communication had been received, and it was generally believed to be true.

HOW THE STORY OF A FORGERY STARTED.

HOW THE STORY OF A FORGERY STARTED.

[GENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.]
BOSTON, Jan. 19.—A critical investigation demonstrates the falsity of the report that a forged dispatch caused the transfer of the Crapo vote to Senator Hoar. The whole story seems to have had its origin in a dispatch received by Senator Randall, of New-Radford from Lawrence Grinnell, a friend of Crapo, which read as follows: "Vote for Hoar and get Crapo men to do so." Senator Randall received it at his hotel, and when he reached the State House on Thursday morning most of the other Crapo men were in conference and he could not find them. He showed the dispatch from Grinnell on the floor of the Joint Convention, to two or three of the Crapo men, and to Senator Loring, of Fitchburg,

The report that a dispatch had been received advising the Crapo men to vote for Mr. Hoar was hastily whispered from member to member, and soon became known to nearly everyone. The or-igm of the story that Mr. Crapo had sent a dispatch was probably a misunderstanding naturally arising in these whispered and fragmentary communicain these whispered and fragmentary communications, and the report seemed to be confirmed when Mr. Boardman, of Bos on, the first Crapo man on the alphabetical rollcall, voted for lioar. As the names of the other Crapo men were called and they voted for Hoar, those who had surmised the story of the dispatch from Crapo felt that nothing more was needed to demonstrate its truth. The statement that Crapo had withdrawn was immediately published as a settled fact by a trustworthy evening paper, and this was made the basis of the dispatch of The News, which coming to the notice of Crapo called forth a which coming to the notice of Crapo called forth a denial of its authenticity, which fact reached this city when the published report had become widespread, and, it was generally believed, furnished a strong foundation for the allegation that forgery had been committed.

WHAT IS SAID IN WASHINGTON. ADMINISTRATION MEN EAGER TO CATCH AT A STRAW

-MR. HOAR'S FEELING. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE,! WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 .- The political sensation of the day was the report that Congressman Crapo's strength in the Massachusetts Legislature had been turned over to Mr. Hoar yesterday by a dispatch forged in the former's name. This was eagerly caught up by some of the supporters of the Administration as a set-off to the torgery upon Judge Robertson at the Saratoga Convention, and one onterprising afternoon newspaper here described him as "George Forgery Hoar" in its very first edition. It need hardly be said that if there had been a forgery, no one would have suspected Senator Hoar of any knowledge of it. The difference between Mr. Hoar and "Steve" French is considerable. The Senator said to friends that he would not hold an office five minutes that should come to him oy sach The report grew out of a series of slight misunderstandings. Mr. Crapo sent on Wednesday to a friend at New-Bedford, which is his home, a dispatch which he showed to Mr. Norcross, of Massachasetts, suggesting whether it would not be wise ander the circumstances for his friends to consider the expediency of voting for Senator Hoar. This is Mr. Norcross's recollection of it. He said to Mr. Crapo:" That will elect iloar on the next ballot." The dispatch was evidently communicated to Mr. Crapo's friends in Boston privately, as it was not read at the conference of the Crapo men, and they voted for Mr. Hear. Mr. Crapo was telling Mr. W. W. Rice, of Massachusetts, the next day, what he probably was not folly awake can hardly be criticised for not making a statement as full and explicit as he might make on the floor of the House. This statement was construed, of course, to deny the existence of any dispatch, a.d thus the "forger" was proved at both ends of the line. It is understood that Mr. Crapo's reason for making the suggestion in the way he did was that he has never been a candidate, did not enter the field, and therefore did not propose to withdraw, as formal candidates do, but preferred that his friends should stop voting for him as if of their own accord. Several of his coheagues say that he has been at all times outspoken in his preference for Hoar over Long. over Long.

MR. WINDOM'S WANING STRENGTH.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.-The deadlock in the Legislature on the United States Senatorship coutinnes, with little likelihood of ending before the latter part of next week. The Windom men are holding night caucusses and are determined to stand by their man until the last, yet every ballot shows a slow falling off in Windom's vote. On Wednesday, when both Houses balloted separately, Mr. Windom received seventy votes. In daily joint conventions since then his strength has waned, until on the last of four ballots taken to-day, only fifty votes were recorded for him. If the opposition could concentrate upon one candidate, a speedy election would undoubtedly result. With four absentees there are 146 votes. Giving 45 to Windom, to which figure his strength will probably be confined by Monday, and 35 to Wilson the Democratic candidate, who daily receives about that number, there are 61 votes remaining. Should the contest narrow down to these limits there is little doubt that the requisite additional eight votes could soon be mustered for some acceptable Republican besides Mr. Windom, What strengthens this supposition is the fact that a number of Democrats stand ready to make a break from Mr. Wilson the moment the name of some unobjectionable compromise candidate is presented. The situation late to-night remains practically unchanged, and there is no telling what the morrow will bring forth. The general expectation, however, is that no result will be reached for a week. THE RESULT OF FOUR BALLOTS.

[GENERAL PRESS DISPATCH.] Sr. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.-The first ballot for United States Senator, taken at noon to-day, resuited as follows: Windom, 53; Wilson, 35; Cole, 15; Dannell, 11; Hubbard, 9; Kindred, 6; Start, 4: Davis, 3; Farmer, 3; Armstrong, 1; Berry, 1; Gilman, 1; Castle, 1; Straite, 1; Wakefield, 1.

Second ballot-Windom, 51; Wilson, 34; Cole, 15; Duanell, 11; Hubbard, 10; Kindred, 6; Start, 4: Davis, 3: Farmer, 3: Armstrong, Berry, Gilman, Castle, Straite, Wakefield and S. G. Comstock, 1

Third ballot-Windom, 51; Wilson, 32; Cole, 17; Dunnell, 11; Hubbard, 9; Kindred, 6; Start, 4; Davis, 3; Farmer, 4; scattering, 6, Total, 143.

The fourth ballot gave Windom 50; Wilson, 33; Cole, 15, and Farmer 6. There were no other

THE SITUATION IN MICHIGAN. Dernoir, Jan. 19 .- The first ballot in joint convention of the Legislature for United States Senator to-day resulted as follows: Ferry 52, Stout 50, Hauchet 7, Burrows 7, scattering, 15 among 10 candidates. The second ballot resulted the same as the first, with the exception of the changes in the scattering vote. Mr. Ferry received 52 votes.

NO CHOICE YET IN NEBRASKA. LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 18 .- The fourth joint ballot a the Legislature to-day for United States Senator was as follows: Thayer (Rep.), 16; Millard (Rep.), 16; Morton (Dem.), 13; Manderson (Rep.), 8; Stickle (Auti-Monopoly), 10; Saunders (Rep.), 12; Corwin (Rep.), 11; Brown (Dam.), 8; Vifguain, 6; Conner (Anti-Monopoly), 6; balance, scattering.

THE DEADLOCK IN COLORADO. DENVER, Col., Jan. 19.-The Scuatorial deadlock still continues. The vote in joint session to-day developed nothing new.

THE OPPOSITION TO MCPHERSON. FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.] TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 19 .- The absence of the Legislature, which will not meet again until Monday evening, makes it impossible for the political managers to make much headway with the Senatorial contest. They are not idle, however, and there is more talk of formidable oppolition to Senator McPherson. The two and Miss Eith King, and also by Miss Newbold and G. Houses will vote separately on Theoday, and a caucus of the Democrate on Monday uses it is a necessity if there is the Democrats on Monday night is a necessity if there is Mr. McPherson's canvass is the indifference of those we should, under ordinary conditions, be among his strongest ridents. The position of Chancellor Rusyon in tountest is becoming a matter of interest. He has frien who are prepared to make an earnest contest for him the Democrator ranks should they see a change of it election, and certain Republicans have a liking for all which might be used to aid aim in case of a break from Mr. McPherson in the joint meeting on Wednesday.

A MINISTER SUED FOR LIBEL.

'HALLELUJAH LASSES" DESCRIBED AS " A BAND OF HUNGRY CORMORANTS."

Mrs. Isabelta Whitehead and Mrs. Sophia L. D. Marshall, two " Hallelnjah lasses," or female members of the Salvation Army at Paterson, N. J., have brought suits for slander again t the Rev. Charles Pelletrenu, rector of the Protestant Episcapa Church of the Holy Communion in that city. The papers were served yesterday. Each of the plaintiff's claims $5,000 damages. The alleged slauderous utterances were made in a sermon which Mr. Pelletreau preached to his congregation on last Sanday, in which he severely denounced the Salvation Army and its methods. No especial reference was made in the sermon to the plaintiffs in the suit, and it is thought that the leaders of the army, who were very indignant at the chargyman's scathing rebuke, held a conference selected the two women to the action, they both being well-to-do and likely to the action, they both being well-to-do and likely to excite sympathy for their cause. The suit cannot be tried until the April term of the courts.

The sermon, which was published in The Falerson Press on the day after it was delivered, caused much talk, most of it favorable to the clergyman. The following are the strongest passages of Mr. Pelietreau's sermon, the text of which was from Matthew xx., 14: "If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch":

both shall fall into the ditch":

I have the best reason to believe that these people are actuated by anything but the highest motives to giving their support to a bond, shameless religious rowdynam. The very bills that are posted on our walls and fences are enough to disgust any sober-minded person. They deal in monstrons and blasph-mous parodes of the most sacred acts in a man's spiritual training, and deal with the Sacred Nome as they would with that of some low-bred companion with whom they were on terms of easy familiarity.

Their worship supports a large number of lazy, worthless follows who disgrace the absurd uniform that they were in flitting was low flights.

Their worship supports a large number of lazy, worthless fellows who disgrace the absurd uniform that they wear, by firting win silly-minded young women on the paolic thorougafares. It distures private citizens by nightly exhibitions of minstrelay, gainering about its noisy members the very refuse of our sinus, and subjecting law-abiding people to insults from the loaders that follow in list rain.

I look upon the members of this band as a lot of hungry cormorants let loose upon a community to destroy all the real good that faithful, God-fearing men are laboring to accomplish. Young women are absent from their homes until 12, 1 and 2 o'clook in the morning, and are betrayed and rained through the indirect influence of a body of low men and women who preach guiter slang and call it Christianity. If we can find no mighter leverage than this to clevate the life of our people, in the name of God let us leave them alone, for whatever sins they may have to answer for, baasphemy against the holy name of Jesus will not be among the number.

It is a cruel, disgusting, demoralizing monastresstr, as polasnous excreacence thrust upon a community against their wit, and abhorrent to all their finer and better interests.

Why should you as citizens be taxed to pay for police terests.

Why should you as citizens be taxed to pay for police protection to a set of famatics whose meetings are tenfoid less respectable than the Bowery Theatre! Do the Christian churches of this city flud it necessary to station a uniformed officer at their doors to prevent scenes.

tion a uniformed officer at their doors to prevent seenes of rowdylsm and obscenity? The foul jests, the coarse innuendoes, the implous slang that one must hear who mingles with the crowds that patronize this infamy are suggestive of corrupt brothels rather than assemblies of converted sinners. If this is religion, if this is morality, I would say to all who have never come under its influence, sunn it as a man would shim a poisonous where. Pass it by on the olner side. Do what you can to crush it and drive it away. If it ever leaves, there are some parts of our city that will need moral distifictants to rid them of the poisonous odors that will remain.

2:30 a.m., with a question, as it is reported, whether he had requested his friends to vote for Mr. Hoar.
Mr. Crape said he had not, which was true. A little explanation would have made the matter clear, but a man who has just been roused out of bed and probably was not folly awake can hardly be criticated for not making a statement as full and excited for not making their trips.

ANNUAL DINNER OF BOWDOIN ALUMNI.

The thirteenth annual dinner of the Bowdoin Alumni Association of New-York was eaten at Delmonico's last evening. At a meeting of the association held before the dinner, Dr. Fordyce Barker was elected president. Dr. Goodwin, General Foster, E. B. Merrill and Curtis Jewett were chosen vice-presidents; D. A. Easton was made treasurer, and Charles E. Soule, corresponding secretary. There were three tables. At the centre one, facing the other two, sat Dr. Fordyce Barker, the president of the association. At his right were ex-Governor Chamberlain, the president of the college, and the Rev. Dr. D. D. Goodwin, of Philadelphia; at his left sat Cullen Sawtelle, and Professor Dunn, classmates of Longfellow and Hawtherne in the class of 1825. The following gentlemen sat at the other tables: The Rev. Dr. Newman Smyth, of New-Haven; Judge Granville P. Hawes, Judge Goddard, postmaster of Portland, Me.; Professor Brackett, of Princeton; Edward B. Merrill, General B. B. Foster, General J. M. Brown, T. W. Upham, Charles E. Soule, Dexter A. Hawkins, General Thomas H. Hubbard, William A. Abbott and Hosea B. Perkins. Dr. Barker proposed the toasts, and in introducing General Chamberlain spoke as to be Brothers of Bowdoin: All of us must greatly regret the domestic bereavements which have made it impossible for the late president of this association to be suble for the grants, and that his place must be taken ing General Chamberlain spoke as follows: sible for the late president of this association to be present this evening, and that his piace must be taken by another. No one can feel this regret more deeply than myself. I tender to you my sincere sympathy for the loss that you must sastain by this change—a sympathy so overwhelming that I should surely break down in my effort to discharge the duties of the occasion twere I not so ably supported on both sides. Fortunately the Committee of Arrangements have so efficiently performed their work that there is little for me to do except to make the speakers who are to respond to the toasts which are to be oftered. Still more fortunately, from the names which are coupled with the various formed their work that there is little for me to do except to name the speakers who are to respond to the tousts which are to be offered. Still more fortunately, from the names when are coupled with the various tousits, I feel able to promise you a feast of reason on the same claim with the material feast of which you have so abundantly partaken, and which you all have no abundantly partaken, and which you all have apparently so highly appreciated. I anticipate no disappointment in your well-grounded expectation of mental and moral refreshment in the suggestive cloquence, the charming reminiscences, the original wit and the soul of will-brevity—and the bright numer, which screatly add digestion, of the speakers that you will have the pleasure of hearing. You will observe that I have not used the planse "earnest appeal," out of respect to the honored gentleman on my right. The past year has been memorable in the annals of our Alma Mater by the publication of "The History of Rowdon Colege," and I cannot say less than to express the hope that everyone present has found as much delight, Interest and agreeable information in turning over its pages as I have done. The necrology of the year will be recalled by the "In memoria," of the first toast, which will be drunk standing and in silence.

There were twelve toasts, the first one being in memory of Longfellow, Dr. Allen and three other animan, who had died during the year. President Chamberian responded to "Alma Mater," and Cullen Sawtelle to "The Class of 1825." "The Study of Language," was responded to by Dr. Goodwin; "Theology, a Progressive Science, by the Rev, Dl. Newman Smyth; "Science, the Handmand of Theology," by Professor Brackett "The Old Girls of the Androscoggin," by James McKeen; "The Old Girls of the Androscoggin," by James McKeen; "The Old girls of the Androscoggin," by James McKeen; "The Old girls of the Androscoggin," by General Foster, and "Jarispradence—that Science which Keeps Society at Equipoise," by General Hubbard.

After the first toast had the deceased alumni, President Chamberlain was introduced and said in part:

introduced and said in part:

I have learned to enjoy myself at these dinners, and feel less that I am the president of the college than at any other time. It is in memory of the college that this association was formed, and yet you know that the real college is where you are, out in the front lines. We try to the together the memories of our youth, and make our Alma Matter as good, may better, thin she ever has been. As the world advances, we try to keep abreast of the firemest wave. We are constantly graduating processors for other colleges, who go out to enlighten the world, and thus we do a great good in raising other colleges to our own level. I am sure the instruction was leges to our own level. I am sure the instruction was never more effective than now.

TABLEAUS FOR CHARITY.

Chickering Hall was filled last evening with fashionable assembly, who gathered to see the tableans arranged by the Rev. Dr. Henry C. Potter, and produced under the personal supervision of F. D. Millet, in which a number of fashionable people took part for the benefit of the East Side Free Library. The tableaus showed scene in Longfellow's poems, and were present-Mass done, when they were informed that Senator Hoar had been reclected. Mr. Rice said that he had congratulate the Senator, whereupon Mr. Crape told him to carry his congratulations also, and to tell him about the dispatch, which Mr. Rice did, and the Senator returned a message that he was under great obligations to Mr. Crape.

The report that there had been a forgery germinated in some mysterious way in Boston. It was tele-kraphed here and a reporter waked Mr. Crape up at ed in rich costumes and appropriate settings.

Louise, the Marquis of Larne, and the Viceregal party arrived here to-night at 6:40 o'clock, the train being 2 hours and 40 minutes behind time owing to delays between Richmond and Wilmington. The party occupied one of the new and handsome sleeping and drawing-room cars of the Atlantic Coast Line and did not leave it during the trip. At Florence the party took lunch, which was served in the car. The Princess remained in bed until 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which time she was dressed by her attendants. Upon the arrival of the train here the depet was crowded with peo ple anxious to get a look at the visitors. Colonel De Winton fi st came out of the car, and was received by British Consul Walker, Vice-Consul Box, and Captain Domville, of H. M. S. Dido, who, in full uniform, were in waiting. The Consul gave Colouel De Winton some dispatches which he had received for the Princess. A few moments later the Princess, leaning upon the arm of the Marquis, came out of the car, followed by the other members of the party. They bowed to Captain Domville and to the Consul and Vice-Con-Captain Domylile and to the Consul and Vice-Con-sul, and then walked rapidly along the covered platform leading to the waiting-rooms. Carriages were then taken and the whole party went imme-diately to the Churleston Hotel, where a suite of eight line rooms was in readmess for them. It is said that the Princess will remain in Charleston until the 27th inst., when she will board the Dido and sail for Bermuda.

GOVERNMENT INDICATIONS. Synopsis for the past twenty-four hours,

WASHINGTON. Jan. 20-1 a. m .- The barometer is highest in the Missouri Valley, low in the Lake Superior region, and lowest on the Texas coast. Rain has fallen in all the Southern States, and rain of snow in the Middle States and New England. Northwesterly winds prevail west of the Mississippi River and northeasterly in the Atlantic coast States. The tempe ra ture has fallen west of the Mississippi River, risen in the Lower Lake region, and fallen slightly in the South Atlantic States. Atlante States.

A cold wave of vast extent covers the country from the Pacific Coast to the Mississippi litver; it will move slowly to the castward during the day.

Indications for to-tay For the Middle Atlantic States, cloudy light rain, winds mostly northeasterly, stationary or higher temperature, lower pressure. For New-England, cloudy weather, with light rain or snow, variable winds mostly north-westerly, (stationary or higher temperature, generally lower pressure, Cautionary Signals.

Cautionary signals continue from Kitty Hawk to dianola, Galveston and Port Eaus.

TRIBUNE OFFICE, Jan. 20-1 a. m .- During the cloudy weather of yesterday the changes in the barometer were slight. Northeast winds prevailed, with light snow in the morning, and light rain at night. The temperature ranged between 24° and 30°. the average (2612°) being 3% lower than on the corresponding day last year, and 10° lower than on Taureday.

Colder and cloudy weather, with chances of light snow, followed by parily cloudy or fair weather, may be expected to-day in this city and vicinity.

THE EVEN TENOR OF THE MERCURY.

The weather yesterday was very badly mixed. In the morning it was cold, and it snowed. About noon the snow became moist, and for a time in the afternoon only a weather expert could have told whether snow or water reigned supreme. About 4 o'clock there was a rain beyond doubt, yet it might almost have passed for a mist. The thermometer at Hudaut's at 6 a m., at noon and at 6 p. m. registered 24°. Commissioner Coleman said yesterday that he would have Broadway cleared of anow hast might and probably the streets leading to the forries. In the North River were the largest fields of ice seen there this scason. It

William Samuel Johnson, for many years a prominent citizen of New-York, died at Stratford, Conn. on Wednesday. Mr. Johnson was born at Stratford, December 13, 1795. He was a grandson of William Samuel Johnson and a great-grandson, on his mother side, of Jonathan Edwards. Mr. Johnson came to this city in 1819 and studied law in the office of Thomas Addis Emmet, the Irish patriot. He was admitted to the bar in 1820 and was sometime a partner of Og. den Edwards and afterward a partner of Judge William Kent. In 1834 and 1835 he was a member of the Common Council, in which body he was active in carrying through the plans for providing the city with Croton water and for building the Tombs. He also gave efficient aid in the establishment of the asylum for lunuties on Blackwell's Island. In 1848 and 1849 ne was a member of the State Senate, where he worked earnestly for the welfare of the Indians in that State. In 1846 Mr. Johnson opened a land office in Ellicottville, N. Y., for the sale of large tracts of land he had purchased in Cattarangus County. He lived in Ellicottville from 1851 to 1858. He removed his lamily to New-Haven in 1858, but he retained his residence in Ellicitville until 1862. Mr. Johnson's wife (a sister of President Woolsey, of Yale Colege) died in 1880, but the following sons and daughters survive him: Samuel William Johnson, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., late Commissary-General of this state; Dr. Woolsey Johnson, of this city; Mrs. Susan E. J. Hudson, of New-Haven; and Mrs. Laura Carmalt, wife of Dr. Carmalt, of New-Haven. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and was a man of the strictest integrity and wide benevolence. Blackwell's Island. In 1848 and 1849 he was a member

THE MILWAUKEE THEATRE EXPLOSION.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 19 .- Anson Farrington, who was injured at the explosion in the Opera House last night, died this afternoon. Albert Seremore cannot recover. The physicians say the other three injured the accident was the explosion of the calcium light cylinders, the result of mixing hydrogen and oxygen gas, with which the two cylinders were charged. The mistake was made by Farrington in the forenoon. It was noticed and his attention called to it. Farrington replied that it was all right; that when he wanted hydrogen all he need do was to turn on the oxygen cylinder. This he forgot to do. The scenic aroxygen cylinder. This he forgot to do. The scenic artist also told Manager Marsh that the running of the calcium lights was in inexperienced bands, and that as was apprehensive of danger. The vessel which exploder was about three feet long and one toot in diameter. The company played to-night before empivesents. A benefit untince for the injured persons is advertised for to-morrow. It is believed that the accident will seriously eripple the whole season of the Opera House, which, it is claimed, is not a safe place in case of fire.

A LARGE CLAIM FOR PERCENTAGE.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19 .- A declaration was filed in the Common Picas Court to-day by counsel for Alexander McEwen, the noted English fluancier, in his suit against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. The plaintiff sets out that in August, lebt, and were in great need of $10,000,000. By means of his exertions deferred income bonds to the amount of $34,300,000 have been negotiated, and the detendants have received $10,200,000. For his work he claims, upon promises alleged to have been made by the defendants, the sum of $343,000. A demand for this sum was made in April, 1852, out the corporation refused to act it.

BRUTALLY TREATING A SERVANT.

Owego, N. Y., Jan. 19 .- John Hickey and ds wife were arrested here to-day for inhumanly treatng Osce Everett, age ninetecn, who had been a domestic in their household for some years. The arrest was made upon an affidavit of Andrew J. Everett, a brother of the girl. He resides in the village of Corning. County of Steuben. He says that his sister has been living for about eight years past with the family. He is informed that Hickey and his wife at various times during the past five years and on January 1, 1883, assaulted and violently beat his sister with ciand pieces of iron and wood with intent to kill beri They also deprived her of necessary food, clotaing and shelter, whereby her life was endangered, and she is now

THE DISPUTE BETWEEN COLLEGE CREWS.

New-Haven, Conn., Jan. 19 .- A letter was eceived by the Yale Boat Clab rais afternoon from the Harvard Boat Club saying that in the opinion of the Harvard crew the arrangements of preliminaries for the race should not be left to the crews, because they are interested parties. The Harvard crew urge the necessity of the Yale crew appointing a committee to con fer with them, in order that all questions that usually arise at the race may be settled beforehand. Th challenge of which Yale demanded Harvard's acceptance before January 18 could not be accepted until their committee had taken action. The Yale men concode that the desire to have those questions settled before-hand is laudable, but insist that the challenge be ac-I before the preliminaries are arranged. Tacy of meeting to morrow afternoon to take action

A SWITCHMAN ASLEEP AT HIS POST,

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 19 .- The Cincinnati express train going east at 4 o'clock this morning dashed nto the rear of a freight train on the main track at East Syracuse. Harry Stemp, and Harvey Emmons, brakemen, were injured but not fatally. No passengers were hurt. The damage to the rolling stock and freight is considerable. The accident was due to the fact that the switch tender was asleep at his post. The wreck has been cleared away.

In a Still Hour

TWO LEARNED MEN HAVE A TALK AND COME TO A COMMON CONCLUSION.

"There can be no question as to that," said Dr. P-, who is prominently connected with a certain hospital, to his frame, the House Surgeon, as the two sathaving a smoke and a quiet chat in the reception room late on a recent stormy night—" no question at all. Ever since I began practice in that little country village you've heard me speak of, away up near Lake Ontario, thirty years ag. I have felt-in common with all other physicians—the need of a reliable paster There are so many diseases—it indeed, the majority do no come under the rule—for which a good external application is better than remedica poured into a patient's stomuch.

"That's so, Doctor, and to show you my faith in your theory, I may say that since I have held my position here! have opposed the idea of desing people, except in cases whet we were at our wits' end and it seemed to be that or nothing Some secting application. If the patient needs anything, combined with rost and good nursing, will do the business-save where cases of accidents require heroic treatment."
"I say, Doctor," said the other, "you can speak of it, or not, just as you like, but in my private practice, when I want mything of the sort, I use BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. It's a proprietary thing, of course, but it is by all odds the best plaster I have come across. It is a tentifically prepared, quick in taking hold, sure to relieve where relief is possible, and nent as wax to handle. It is just the perfect flower of all that has ever been done in that line. I happen to know two, that it is being rapidly laterduled in the principal hospitals of London, Paris and other leading cities in Europe"

"You needn't fret, my friend," laughed the House Surgeon "over the charge of being caught in the act of professional heterodoxy, for we use Benson's here every day, and so they do at the other city hospitals. We find it so much better than linkments, lotions, &c., that the bottles are actually getting scarce in the house."
